2017 CONFERENCE

July 27 to 30, 2017 Victoria, B.C.

“there’s a crack in everything....that’s how the light gets in”

—Leonard Cohen

The true light, who shines upon the heart of everyone, was coming into the cosmos

—John 1:9

THE LIGHT OF CHRIST SHINES

Each hour throughout the conference, we will have a silent minute for prayer.

CONFERENCE SCHEDULE

Theme A: Poverty and Homelessness

In the park between Christ Church Cathedral and Victoria's Court House, over 100 people formed a community, Super InTent City, for a year. How would Christ engage people living in and around Tent City? What would He say to poor, homeless people? to addicts? to neighbours finding drug paraphernalia littered around their homes? to parents and children at a nearby school? to parishioners of Christ Church Cathedral? to activists for social housing and for safe drug injection sites?

What would Christ say to deacons?

Theme B: Deacons' Experience

The Iona Report on the ministry of deacons was accepted by General Synod in 2016, and returns to the next General Synod. How does the Report enrich our training and development? challenge current realities across Canada? What should we do before the next Synod?

AADC Annual General Meeting:

Reports to members, and election of officers.

Theme C: Reconciliation with First Nations

Reconciliation 1: Christian reconciliation becomes incarnate locally. There are over 40 First Nations on Vancouver Island. On the territory of the Songhees Nation, an elder will share their history and culture with us.

Reconciliation 2: The foundation of reconciliation includes the Primates' calls, and the Truth and Reconciliation Commission. The Bishop of B.C. made a 500 kilometer walk of repentance, the Sacred Journey, in Lent 2016.

What can deacons do for a deep, meaningful reconciliation in Canada?

Theme D: Diaconal Ministries

Using the model of scientific and medical conferences, over 20 deacons will each summarize their ministry on a 'poster'. Delegates will circulate among them, reading the posters, asking questions, exchanging information, and inspiring richer and new ministries throughout Canada.
